I must start by apologising for the lateness of this newsletter and for the slimmer edition. Personal and other factors have conspired against me this time but hopefully the next issue will be back up to strength.

Reunion 2018

As you will have read in the Annual General Meeting resumé in the last Newsletter, the dates of the 2018 reunion will be Friday 5th and Saturday 6th October. The Annual General Meeting will be at 13.30 on Friday and the service and parade will be at 10.45 for 11.00 on the Saturday. The major change will be that there will be NO dinner on the Friday evening. This is not a decision we came to lightly, in fact we thought long and hard about it and explored various options but last year we only had 62 for the dinner, of which only 6 were RNPS veterans, which fell well below a financial break even point. It has always been the case that the reunion should be self funding and not a drain on association funds. We are sure members will understand our reasoning and still continue to support us at the buffet after the service on the Saturday.

So, the programme for the reunion is -

1. Friday 5th October, the AGM will be held at the same venue as last year, Studio Theatre in Sparrows Nest Gardens at 13.30. This is the old theatre box office and is next to the new Italian Restaurant at the bottom of the park.
2. The service of remembrance will be at 11.00 on Sat. 6th Oct. (muster 10.45) in Belle Vue Park.
3. We will then continue after the service on Saturday in Sparrows Nest Gardens with "Sunset" outside the museum by the mast. There will be no march down from the memorial, we will just re-gather when everyone has had a chance to make their way down to the Nest and get their second wind.
4. After the parade is dismissed there will be a buffet in Giardino, the Italian Restaurant in the park but this is by TICKET ONLY at £12.00 per head – please see booking form at the end of this newsletter.

Also, in the Sparrows Nest Gardens the Martello Cafe will be open during the day both Friday and Saturday.

Wreaths for reunion

If anyone would like a poppy wreath ordered for laying at the service on the Saturday could they please let us know as soon as possible so we can get them ordered and badged with the RNPSA badge or one of your choice.

Draw books

If you live in the UK and have indicated to HQ that you wish to receive the annual reunion draw books then there will be 5 books included with this Newsletter. The cost is £1 per book and the counterfoils, money and any unsold tickets should be sent back to the Secretary as soon as possible. It has always been Association policy that the annual reunion is funded from the sale of the draw books and does not draw on our general funds, with this in mind and our slowly decreasing number of members, please do your best to sell / buy the tickets to help the Association. All counterfoils and money and any unsold books should be returned to us at "The Nest" as soon as possible but no later than 30th September. Extra books can be obtained from the "Nest".

Privacy statement

You have, no doubt seen or heard about the new GDPR rules that have just come in. GDPR stands for General Data Protection Regulation. It affects every organisation that collects and/or stores information on people and governs how the data can be used. The mass of information and guidance that came out regarding this was, to say the least, daunting. We took not only the printed advice but had someone come down to the "Nest" to see exactly what we do and how we do it and how all this will affect us. As it turns out there was very little we had to change as our existing system and our use of data fitted in very nicely with what is required. One change we made is that we no longer record names and addresses in our visitors book and we will from now on have a line on the membership application forms to state that the data is stored but only used for association use.

This short article is our official notification to you that the data we hold on you i.e. name, address, email etc. is only used for mailing purposes to you and is only accessed by one person and is password secured. No data we hold on members is given to a third party.

Suffolk WW1 Maritime Commemoration event

This event, which is going to be a big one, is on Sunday 7th October, the day after our reunion service and again is at our memorial in Belle Vue Park. It is open to everyone and there will be senior Naval officers, band and a parade through the town. They propose to have 2 RN patrol boats off shore in sight of our memorial to fire a gun salute. Initial times for the event are 13.00 - 16.00 with the service around 15.00. Exact details will be available at the reunion.

Report from Ocracoke Island 2018 by Robert Eagle

The goal this year was to raise the profile of the RNPS (as usual the RNPS takes second place to the RN) and I think we certainly did raise our profile this year. The great package of souvenirs sent from Lowestoft to Joe Schwarzner (director of the Graveyard of the Atlantic museum) to hand out was well received.

Joe was thrilled to receive the package and we had to try to decide how to disperse the gifts. We decided that the museum should keep a copy of the books and the remainder to those (mainly dignitaries and local journalists) who would take them to other areas of the US, and hope they would be seen by others who know nothing of the trawler fleet that came here. Most everyone else received post cards, bumper stickers, and other bits and pieces that Bear and I picked up at the "The Nest" when we visited. The scarves were very popular and in demand so we handed those out very discreetly. We certainly raised our profile.

Another person that helped bring the Patrol Service to the fore this year was Rob Reedy a gentleman who lives here in Moorhead City NC. He had done some excellent research and had been in contact with some of the men from HMT Coventry City and I think HMT Norwich City back in the early 90's. He had some letters and photos from some of the men who served here on the trawlers. He gave 2 lectures on the RNPS, one at the Graveyard or the Atlantic Museum and the other at the local library on Ocracoke Island.

The U.S. Coast Guard Pipe and Drums Auxiliary were well represented as were the Coastguard, Canadian RN, RN and CWWGC. The Patrol service was represented by the same 6 as last year. My wife Trish, Bear, his wife Kara, and our 2 friends, Ed and Jody. The journey up and back is a bit of a haul but we intend to go back next year. If anyone from the RNPSA decides to attend, let me know.

The Royal Navy was represented by Commodore Martin Connell, the British attaché based in Washington, D.C. and Commander Mark Lister, senior British officer at the Naval Ocean Processing Facility in Dam Neck, Virginia. ### Branch news

Apart from Headquarters, there is now only one surviving branch of the RNPSA and that is Portsmouth and hopefully in the next newsletter will be a short article on what is still a very active branch.

Recently our Curator received a package of some photographs from a relative of one of the members of the Scottish Branch that closed some years ago. These 2 pictures show the dedication of the branch standard on 20th June 1991 at the Glasgow RNR unit, HMS Graham. The framed pictures were presented to the branch by Cdr J N Chalmers RD RNR who we presume was the CO of HMS Graham at the time.

being ex RN Officers. An initial estimate of cost is £2.5M and more can be seen about this on their web site www.battleoftheatlantic.org Here are 2 artists impressions of the finished memorial. As you will know the Patrol Service played a very important and vital role in the Battle of the Atlantic and so we will be following the progress of this project very carefully.

Recognition

The café and restaurant in the Sparrows Nest Gardens are owned and run by Andrew Flowers and Barry Keable who have always supported and helped us not only at reunion time but all through the year. In recognition of this we have made them Honorary Life Members and National Vice Chairman, Charlie Harris presented them with their certificate.

Unusual log burner

I have come across this photograph of a log burner – not the usual type you see, this is made from an old mine!! I am not sure how it would go down with the wives but it would certainly be a subject for discussion.

Slops List update

With decreasing numbers of members, we are evaluating our stock requirements with regard to re-order quantities. It is quite likely that some items, once they have run out, may not be replaced or if they are may cost more than they are at present as we will have to order smaller quantities.
